The company Data Research was founded in 2003. Founder and CEO is Prof. Dr. Christian Hesse. The firm has its roots in the Division of Mathematical Statistics of the University of Stuttgart’s Institute of Stochastics and Applications. Therefore, it can draw upon many years of experience with analyzing data and performing research in the areas of statistics and probability theory.

The major service that it centers around is Statistical Consulting in all its aspects. It is geared towards data analysis problems of firms, government agencies, research institutions, organizations as well as individuals.

For further information see here (in German) or contact christian.hesse60@gmx.de